LIGHTEN THE LOAD

Robert Smith at RS Sports Therapy in King's Chambers, Queen Street, offers his advice on protecting your back and neck from strain and injury this Christmas.

Shopping: love it or loathe it, shopping can affect your posture and ultimately, your back.

- Use a trolley rather than a basket – even if you are only getting a few things
- Avoid long periods on your feet and do several small trips or break up time spent shopping with regular breaks
- Wear sensible and supportive shoes and if you are standing in queues move your weight from foot to foot
- Try not to lift anything heavy and better to carry two bags than one so that weight is evenly distributed
- Once you are home – avoid sitting on the floor to wrap presents and try standing at a table instead.
